

MAJA LINDBERG

SWEDISH ARTIST

HIGHLY EXPERIENCED ILLUSTRATOR

Inspired by fairy tales, dreams & childhood memories

Q & A

How would you describe your own work?

Colourful, with a hint of dark in it. Often a little melancholic and with a dreamy touch.

What is your favorite piece of work in your portfolio & why?

City by Night (LND0002)– I like the colors and all the details when you take a closer look. The houses becomes almost as a pattern when you look at it further away.

Maja's studio is located in Lomma - a small village by the sea - in the south of Sweden.

Maja creates beautiful and visually engaging illustrations which often hold some mystery. Encouraging creativity, curiosity, and fantasy.

Maja works as an illustrator and artist. She started her career as a ceramicist, but after a short stopover in web design she ended up working as an illustrator and suddenly had her own business.

She set up a store on Etsy and after a few months had sent artprints all over the world. Since then Maja has been fortunate to work with clients both nationally and internationally. Her published work includes eight children's books - most of her work is digital illustration using Procreate.

Clients include: Santoro London, Personal Planner, Posten Åland, Björn Ulvaeus, Fri Tanke and The ABBA Museum, Svensk Bokhandel, Hippo Bokförlag, and many more.

Who would be your dream dinner party guests?

John Bauer
(Swedish illustrator)

Astrid Lindgren
(Swedish Childrens' book writer)

H.C. Andersen
(Danish fairytale writer)

Elsa Beskow
(Swedish Children books writer and author)

An illustration of a town at night, viewed from a high angle. The houses have dark, steeply pitched roofs. A ballerina in a dark tutu is dancing on a rooftop. A large, full moon is in the dark sky. A white dog is visible in the bottom left corner.

If you were an animal,
what would you be?

A cat – free, independent and a little bit spoiled :)

A whimsical illustration of a snowy town with colorful buildings and a small figure on a roof. The scene is set in a winter landscape with snow falling from a dark, stormy sky. The buildings are in various colors, including red, green, and grey, and have snow on their roofs. A small figure in a red coat and hat is visible on one of the roofs. The overall style is soft and painterly.

Tell us about yourself,
what makes you 'tick'?

Ever since I was small I've been obsessed by craft. My mom was a pre-school teacher and she used to try out different craft materials with me and my friends. I think there's where my need for being creative started.

How would you describe your own work?

Colourful, with a hint of dark in it. Often a little melancholic and with a dreamy touch.

An illustration by Maja Lindberg showing a group of children playing various instruments on a grassy hill at night. The children are dressed in dark clothing. One child plays a violin, another a trumpet, a third a guitar, a fourth a tuba, a fifth a cymbal, a sixth a flute, and a seventh a clarinet. Two birds are flying in the sky above them. The scene is set against a dark blue night sky with some stars and a large tree with yellow leaves on the right side.
